

The British Pain Society Annual Scientific Meeting 2020

Speaker FAQs

Why is the ASM being postponed?

The British Pain Society takes seriously its responsibility to protect clinicians and the public from contracting COVID-19 and to ensure that the NHS is as prepared as it can be for increased demand.

As a lot of those attending the Annual Scientific Meeting are anaesthetists and other health professionals, this move signals the Society's concern to protect the NHS frontline workforce as best it can.

When has the 2020 ASM been rescheduled to?

We are looking at an alternate date in the last quarter of this year.

What if I can't make the new date?

We understand how busy our speaking faculty are and we endeavour to facilitate as many needs as possible. We will be in touch with you personally about how we can manage any changes in timing or availability.

If you have any questions about this or you have not already been contacted by us directly please email us at info@britishpainsociety.org

Will the costs of my prearranged travel still be reimbursed?

We would ask that you first contact your travel provider to confirm whether a refund or transfer of ticket is available. If this is not possible, please contact us to let us know at: info@britishpainsociety.org

If you have any questions about this or you have not already been contacted by us directly please email us at info@britishpainsociety.org
