Wills Memorial Building Tower Tours

Officially opened in 1925 by King George V and Queen Mary, the Wills Memorial Building houses the university's School of Law and the School of Earth Sciences.

Standing tall above the University complex at the top of Park Street, this ornately carved neo-gothic treasure is a true Bristol icon and makes a dramatic and inspiring venue.

As you enter the building, take note of the sweeping double stone staircase and carved stone vaulted ceiling, leading to the impressive Great Hall and Reception Room, with carved oak panelled walls and lead windows.

The views of the city of Bristol from the top of Wills Tower, some 68 metres above Park Street are amazing. It is definitely worth the effort of climbing up the narrow, spiral staircases with a total of 345 steps.

We have arranged dedicated tower tours (lasting 30 minutes) to be held during the lunch breaks, so you can see behind the grand façade and experience the splendour of the building. The tour guides give a unique insight into the history of the building and all profits raised are donated to Wallace & Gromit's Grand Appeal for the Bristol Children's Hospital.
